Meadames Click and

Benbow Complimented—

A beautiful and brilliant affair of unusual interest and one of the artistic entertainments of the winter was the "afternoon tea" on Thursday given by Misses Malcolm and Mary McInnis as a social compliment to Mrs. L. L. Click and Mrs. A. Benbow, the latter being a charming young matron of only a few weeks. Her friendliness and personal charm has won for her a large circle of warm friends, and this occasion gave opportunity for many to give expression to their wishes for her happiness.

This lovely event was characterized by that distinctive charm which is always a marked feature of the hostesses' hospitality, and but further sustained their reputation for beautifully arranged parties.

The adornment of the home was extremely lovely, being fragrant with quantities of exquisite chrysanthemums and roses presenting a beautiful scene which was enjoyed during the afternoon by one hundred guests.

Little Miss Lilla Graham Bryan, daintily attired, opened the door and directed the guests to the library, where they received cordial greetings from Miss Malcolm, McInnis, Mrs. A. Benbow, Mrs. L. L. Click, Mrs. Nat Allen, Miss Mary McInnis.

The beauty of the spacious drawing room was enhanced by an artistic profusion of pink Killarney buds clustered in sparkling cut glass receptacles and to give greetings in this room were Meadames R. W. Howell, R. S. Webb Jr., R. L. Hearne, John H. Herington, E. J. Kyle, Frank L. Webb.

American Beauties and scarlet geraniums were the favored blossoms used in the dining room and were clustered in every available space. The coffee and tea table was exquisitely dainty in its embellishment. Over-spread with a handsome crocheted cloth, a wicker basket, the handle bowed with red maline, was filled with a collection, occupied the central position and bon bons and mints of red filled dishes upon the table. Crystal holders tied with red maline bows held shaded tapers of the same hue completing the beauty of appointment. Over elegant silver services Misses Willie McDougald and Allie Conway presided, serving the beverages, and a course of refreshments was passed by Misses Sarah Allen, Irene Board, Anita Park, Clara Mahinney.

Mrs. R. Q. Astin Hostess to Embroidery Club—

Pleasant entertainment was given the Embroidery Club on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Roger Astin, who was hostess, and after a vacation time on account of various happenings, the members were cordial in greeting and much converse was the order of the afternoon.

The presence of Mrs. Thomas Scott and Miss Beale Heard of McKinney, who are guests of the hostess, gave additional pleasure to the assemblage of ladies.

The excellent taste of the hostess led her to choose for her decorations the flower that is so much in evidence now—the chrysanthemum—and with these in cut glass baskets and bowls placed on table and mantle, together with the arrangement of potted ferns, the effect was that of grace and artistic beauty.

All present were busily engaged in the making of dainty gifts for the coming Christmas time, and at the close of a busy time of industry, a prettily appointed tea table was wheeled into the room, bearing on its lace-covered surface a handsome coffee set. The guests were then served with stuffed crab, pineapple salad, hot rolls, coffee, salted nuts and delicious home-made candy.

Woman's Club Open Meeting—

Unprecedented success crowned the efforts of the Bryan Woman's Club at its second open meeting of the club year, which was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience at Carnegie Library on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

These public meetings intersperse the year's work with carefully planned programs, including the various issues that come under the ever-broadening head of woman's work.

On the first of these open meetings—"Rural Welfare Day"—which took place Nov. 3, the club was gratified by the interest manifested by so many friends in our own city and adjoining towns, but even that enthusiastic occasion was surpassed on Wednesday, when "Political Science" and a resume of the Wilson administration was the subject for the afternoon program.

Mrs. S. C. Hayle was the leader and surpassed her own splendid record as one of the brightest and most efficient club members, by the clever and tactful manner in which she worked out the program of the hour.

The hall was attractively decorated for the occasion, with the ever-glorious stars and stripes, streamers of bunting and fluttering flags, surrounding as a center piece over the club president's desk, a life-size portrait of President Wilson. Ferns in profusion made a background for the brilliant coloring of the patriotic decoration. An attentive and appreciative audience filled the hall to its capacity and indicated clearly the increased interest in the club's activities and a keen appreciation of woman's work.

It is the club's policy to present on these programs from time to time the men and women from over the state whose experience gives them a broad knowledge of the subject under discussion. For the political science program of Wednesday Mrs. M. Hetty Curry of Brenham honored the club by accepting their invitation to be present and address them. Mrs. Curry chose for her subject "Why Women Need a Wider Knowledge of Law." Years of study along the line upon which she spoke so entertainingly not only enabled her to present the subject in a capable manner, but linked with that forceful enthusiasm and personality which combine to make her a woman of intellectual strength and power, she carried in her message to the club an appeal that was strong and convincing. Mrs. Curry, before being chosen vice-president at large of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, which office she now holds, served for two years as chairman of the political science committee of the state work.

The entire program of the occasion as conducted by Mrs. Hoyle was as follows:

Roll Call—"What the Wilson administration has accomplished."
Voice (a) Lo, hear the gentle lark, Bishop.
(b) Chrysanthemum, Salter—Mrs. W. C. Davis.
Address—Mrs. M. Hetty Curry of Brenham.

Instrumental—Bellario (Gorio)—Mrs. Hendricks Conway.
Reading—Kipling's "Recessional"—Miss Anita Park.
Chorus—"America"—By our club daughters from the high school.

The coterie of pretty high school girls, chaperoned by Miss Ada Board, added a patriotic touch to the meeting, with their yells for "President Wilson," "Our Visitor, Mrs. Curry," "Woman's Club" and "Bryan High School."

Among the visitors present were a number of club women from Navesota, the senior class from the Bryan High School and their worthy superintendent, the senior class from Bryan Baptist Academy and several members of that faculty.

Mrs. Albert Buchanan, the club president, extended to all present an invitation to attend the next open meeting, which will be on Wednesday, Jan. 6, 1916. Mrs. P. M. Raynor will act as chairman of that meeting and the subject of the program of the day will be "Civics."

Club Reporter.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Feiker Entertained Bridge Club—

Among the most pleasant social affairs of the week was the courtesy shown the Bridge Club of the A. & M. College by Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Feiker, when they entertained the club in their pleasant home on East Burleson street Thursday evening. The evening was most delightful for all, concluding with an elegant refreshment course of creamed oysters, hot rolls, coffee, Saratoga chips and olives.

Those present were: Prof. and Mrs. F. C. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. B. Youngblood, Prof. Charles Puryear, Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Hedges, Prof. and Mrs. O. F. Chastain, Lieutenant and Mrs. R. J. Hill, Prof. J. W. Ridgeway, Prof. Adelsperger, Prof. and Mrs. J. B. Bagley, Prof. and Mrs. E. J. Ferrier, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Conner, Dr. and Mrs. J. O. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thomas, Mrs. J. C. Burns, Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Marsteller.

Entertained at Dinner—

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Allen entertained with an elegant 6 o'clock dinner on Thursday evening, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Nat Allen and Mr. and Mrs. John Rivers Allen.

The affair was thoroughly enjoyable, perfect in all its appointments, and the very essence of elegance, which is characteristic of all social functions given by Mr. and Mrs. Allen. The personnel of the party included Mr. and Mrs. Nat Allen, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allen, Dr. and Mrs. A. Benbow, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Click, Mr. and Mrs. Jim James.

Miss Caldwell Complimented—

The Sherman paper gives an account of a Kild-Key Orchestra concert which was given on Nov. 19 and the following was said of a Bryan girl:

Miss Louise Caldwell of Bryan, who is one of Mrs. Versel's most gifted pupils, rendered two soprano solos—she was in excellent voice and thrilled her audience with the peculiar beauty of her voice, as well as with the fine rendition of her songs.

Notes and Personals—

The Friday Club will hold no more meetings until after the Christmas holidays.

Under the capable leadership of Miss Anita Park everything is progressing nicely for "Alice in Wonderland" to be given for the benefit of the Civic League at the Colonial Theater next Friday evening, and all indications point to a successful and very artistic entertainment.

Mrs. J. S. Doan will be hostess to the Embroidery Club on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.
